Pilbara Horizons

Join a network of ambassadors

Roy Hill Community Foundation is looking for ambassadors to join the Pilbara Horizons Program. This opportunity is open to employees across all the Foundation's partner organisations.

You'll join a close-knit team dedicated to creating long-term support for people and communities across the Pilbara. Together you'll help to raise funds for the Foundation's regional arts and culture, education and health programs. Four teams of ambassadors will contribute to our collective goal of raising a minimum of $80K. You'll also be mentored by fundraising experts to help broaden your horizons.

We are Proud Pilbarans

Since 2015, the Roy Hill Community Foundation has worked to create ongoing opportunities throughout the Pilbara. Our strength as a Foundation lies in what we can achieve together as a diverse group of organisations and businesses. These strong partnerships have allowed us to provide investment across arts and culture, health and education.

We are Proud Pilbarans – dedicated to shaping positive futures and working together with local communities to create true success stories.

Allowing creativity to thrive

"We're teaching young people how to believe in themselves."

Elise Batchelor

Teacher and Theatre Producer

Arts & Culture

The Hedland Amateur Theatre for Children (HATCh) was formed in 2020 to allow young people in the Pilbara to express themselves through creativity, make new friends and gain confidence. The Roy Hill Community Foundation is proud to support the work of HATCh, which has resulted in several sold-out performances.

Our Foundation has also partnered with the West Australian Ballet and the Port Hedland Youth Dance Collective to provide dance workshops and performances for young people in the Pilbara, allowing creativity to thrive in remote and regional communities.

"That significant adult helping kids get through schooling is life changing for so many."

Bill Mann

Hedland Senior High School
Former Principal

Inspiring a love of learning

Education

Education plays a vital role in shaping futures. Through our ongoing partnership with EdConnect, the Roy Hill Community Foundation provides mentors for students. This has seen school attendance levels rise, as well as providing students with the self-belief they need to achieve their goals.

The Foundation also offers a scholarship program for Aboriginal students at St Cecilia's Catholic Primary School.

Solving medical mysteries

Health

You can tell a lot about a person from their face – just ask the Pilbara Faces team. This ground-breaking medical initiative uses 3D imaging to help diagnose rare diseases in Aboriginal children, giving answers to families who desperately need them. Pilbara Faces is proudly funded by the Roy Hill Community Foundation and is already making a life changing impact.

The Pilbara is also home to the Lyfe Languages Champions Program, a youth-driven initiative connecting Aboriginal people with culturally sensitive healthcare services and support. We are honoured to support such a critically important project.

"Pilbara Faces gave us the answer we've been looking for."
